It's Not Too Late to Claim the 2020 & 2021 Recovery Rebate Credit When You Don't Normally File a Tax Return

Most eligible people already received their stimulus payments and are not eligible to claim a credit.

If you're eligible and didn't receive the full 2020 or 2021 Economic Impact Payments, you may be eligible to claim the Recovery Rebate Credit.

To claim it, you must file a tax return even if you otherwise are not required to file a tax return. Your Recovery Rebate Credit will be included in your tax refund.

If you're eligible to claim the 2020 Recovery Rebate Credit, you must file a tax return by May 17, 2024, to claim the credit.

If you're eligible to claim the 2021 Recovery Rebate credit, you must file a tax return by April 18, 2025, to claim the credit.

IRS Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) is a great option for people who are only filing a tax return to claim the Recovery Rebate Credit. Visit www.irs.gov/VITA to find the site nearest you and a list of what to bring.

Use IRS Online Account to view the total amounts of your Economic Impact Payments.

See the special section on IRS.gov about claiming the Recovery Rebate Credit if you aren't required to file a tax return. Learn more at 2020 Recovery Rebate Credit Frequently Asked Questions and 2021 Recovery Rebate Credit Frequently Asked Questions.
